Notes:

- Prices are not provided as they may have changed since last updated. It is best to contact the office directly. In 2020-2021, most full psych-ed assessments were about $2000-2500.
- Keep in mind that there may be waiting lists with certain psychologists
- The services of registered psychologists in private practice are not covered by OHIP. However, many extended health benefit plans provide coverage for the services of a registered psychologist.
 - However, some insurance providers of healthcare benefits require that you have a referral for psychological services from a family doctor or other medical specialist
 - Any learning assessment not covered by insurance is usually able to be claimed as a medical expense on your income tax.
- Depending on a client's needs/ situation, some psychologists will do a partial assessment
 - Ask what is included in the full assessment and the partial assessment and discuss what is best

- Reminder: most post secondary institutions (colleges and universities) recommend the most recent assessment be within 2 years of entering post secondary (some will accept assessments up to 3 years old, but not many)
 - Be sure to check the student services website on their website for the most up to date information--if you need help navigating this, please ask!
 - A high school IEP will not be sufficient enough in most cases
